Javits Center - River Pavilion

Thank you!

We were so happy to see you again in person!

MakeUp in New York 10th edition closed its doors yesterday, but the ideas, discoveries and inspirations proposed by this year's edition will continue to resonate for a long time. The Javits Center has been the scene of two truly action-packed days around Make-up and Skincare trends and innovations!

If the travel ban constrained us to redesign the show for this edition, it did not slow down the creative and business effervescence of the local players during these 2 days!

Both exhibitors and visitors were happier than ever to meet again in person for this 100% "Made in the USA" edition.

We are already working on preparing MakeUp in New York 2022, to return to an even bigger GLO.CAL edition!

Innovation at the heart of the show!

While this year's MakeUp in New York focused on East Coast companies due to the travel ban, vendors showcased skincare and makeup innovations from around the world.

The 18 products selected for this year's event were praised by visitors!
